Corporations, Securities & Commercial Licensing Bureau

The Corporations, Securities & Commercial Licensing Bureau (CSCL) performs the public facing duties of helping to grow business activity in Michigan through the Corporations Division, and by protecting the health, welfare, and safety of Michigan citizens through regulatory and licensing functions of the Securities, Licensing, and Enforcement divisions. The Corporations, Securities and Commercial Licensing Bureau offers multiple options for veterans.

Fee waiver and temporary license for Accountant, Architect, Residential Builder and Professional Engineer

Professions that fall under the Occupational Code have initial application fee waivers and also allow for a temporary spouse license. Professions included in the fee waiver and temporary license include occupations such as accountant, architect, residential builder and professional engineer; complete details and information for the fee waiver can be found at www.Michigan.gov/CSCL and then by clicking on the link labeled 'Information for Active Duty Military Personnel, Veterans & Military Spouses'.

Fee waiver for a Residential Builders license

In addition to fee waiver, veterans applying for a Residential Builders license may be exempt from the Pre-licensure course requirement, information can be found at www.michigan.gov/builders and then by clicking on the link labeled 'Armed Forces Applicants - Residential Builders and M&A Contractors'.

Specific exemptions for veterans applying for a Security Guard license

Veterans applying for a Security Guard license or license to conduct business as a security alarm system contractor also have profession-specific exemptions information which can be found at www.michigan.gov/securityguard and then by clicking on the link labeled 'Information for Veterans - Security Guard & Security Alarm'.

Waiver of business entity filing fees for certain veterans

If a majority of the members or directors of a non-profit corporation, or the majority of shares for a profit corporation or a majority of membership interests of a Limited Liability Company are honorably discharged veterans or held by honorably discharged veterans you may qualify for a waiver of fees. Go to www.michigan.gov/CSCL and then click on the link 'Wavier of business entity filing fees for certain veterans'.
